

Cheshire Homes

Nelson Mandela

University

for tomorrow

Our project

The second year Interior Design students from the Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University recently completed their annual community project that forms part of their curriculum. The site that we chose for this year's project, was the well-known Cheshire Homes in Summerstrand. When we initially started this project, the home needed some spaces that would encourage and inspire the residents and staff members alike. As interior design students, we wanted to uplift and brighten up the space to create an inviting environment. The project included two spaces, the Meeting/Games room, and the Therapy/Art room.

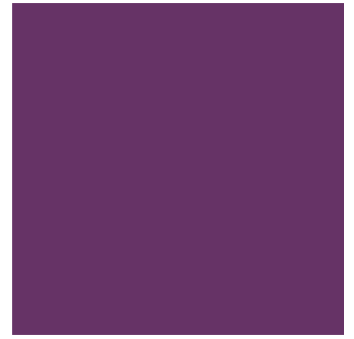

Using color and line to change it up!

As a class, it was decided that fun and happy colours should be used, as to bring life into the spaces, in the form of various geometric pattern that is seen throughout the spaces. Similarly the students made use of their knowledge to improve the functionality of the spaces.

In order to make this project a success, the students appealed to various businesses and individuals and thus received invaluable resources and donations. Without these we would not have been able to complete the projects.

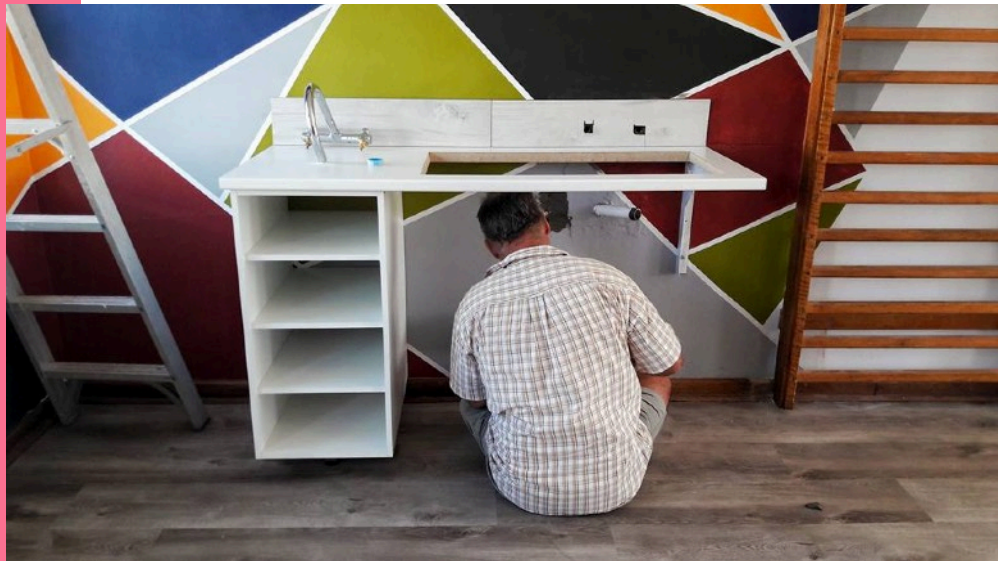

What we learnt

We, as interior design students, came together to implement our ideas in a practical manner, and found how small changes to a persons environment can make big differences. We were humbled by the amazingly kind and encouraging people we met.
